2010 Lamp Yearbook Dedication

Professor Jeffrey Corcoran

Again this year, the Lamp Yearbook staff worked with the Class of 2010 Committee to choose the recipient of the Lamp Yearbook Dedication. The Senior Class nominated many deserving individuals, and we are pleased to dedicate this year's book to Professor Jeffrey Corcoran.

Professor Corcoran has been a member of the Lasell College community since 2001. Through his involvement both inside and outside the classroom, his devotion to helping students succeed is clear.

In the classroom, Professor Corcoran engages students with humor and a smile. He takes advantage of the small classroom atmosphere and ensures that each student receives individual attention. He has also been an asset to the Honors program and consistently encourages students to challenge themselves academically.

Outside the classroom, Professor Corcoran can be found staying involved in campus life. He works with the Student Government Association as a faculty representative on the Food Committee to make recommendations that affect all students. Professor Corcoran also spends some of his free time as a member of the Lasell College Jazz Ensemble, a group made of up faculty and staff members on campus.

Both the Class of 2010 and the Lamp Yearbook thank Professor Corcoran for his continued dedication to student life at Lasell College.

"Be brilliant at the basics. Be the change you wish to see in the world. Be the first one. Be the only one. Be unforgettable. Be interesting. Be a sleeper. Be That Guy. Be That Girl. Be the world's expert on yourself. Be better than yesterday, but not as good as tomorrow. Be confident enough to be humble. But be somebody who reminds everybody of nobody else in the world..."

"... And don't wish it was easier, wish you were better. Don't sell, enable people to buy. Don't let haters get you down. Don't be weary in well doing, for in due season you will reap a great harvest if you faint not. And don't wait for the mainstream to validate your voice. Don't despise the day of small beginnings. Don't be selfish with your knowledge. Don't complain you haven't earned the right. And don't be different, be unique..."

Residential Life

"Because you are what you charge. You are what you believe. You are the books you've read and the people you've met. And you are an empty sheet of paper in minds of every person you encounter. Even though it's not easy being yourself. It's not who you know, it's who knows you. And it's not the years, it's the mileage."

Living on Campus...

Campus Center

In 2004 the Campus Center opened its doors to students, faculty and staff. It is home to about 30 students living on the top floor, along with the Donahue Bookstore, Grill 155 and Peet's Coffee and Tea. Downstairs, students can enjoy performances by live bands and comedians throughout the year.

Butterworth Hall

Butterworth Hall was built at the same time as Bragdon Hall and offers mainly upperclassmen suite style rooms. The building is named for alumna Evelyn Virginia Suor Butterworth, Class of 1927, whose generous contribution in support of the College was in an effort to "give back some of the benefits" she received while she was a student at Lasell.

Bragdon Hall

Bragdon Hall houses mainly upperclassmen in suite style rooms. The building is named for Dr. Charles Bragdon, a member of the Lasell community for 34 years as principal. The building stands on the site of the original Bragdon Hall, once the main building on Lasell's campus that served as home to students and classrooms beginning when the college was founded in 1851.

Forest Suites

Forest suites was built in 2000 and was named after the street where it resides. In addition to housing students, the building also has a full athletic training center which is used as part of the college's connected learning philosophy, and athletic coaches' offices.

Rockwell Hall

Rockwell Hall became Lasell's twenty third residence Hall building in the fall of 2007. The building houses 140 student in double style rooms. Students in Rockwell have Grellier Field right next door, making it easy to get out and support Lasell's Varsity athletic teams

East and West Halls

East and West Halls opened their doors in Fall 2009 to students. The location of the new halls, along with McClelland Hall and Van Winkle Hall, has created a quad area for students to enjoy and relax in. East and West Halls are co-educational residence halls.

Living on Campus...

Woodland Hall

Woodland Hall is usually home to many first year students. The building was constructed in 1950 to replace the Woodland Park School adjacent to the Edwards Student Center.

McClelland Hall

McClelland Hall is a traditional style residence hall housing both men and women at Lasell. The building was named in honor of Muriel McClelland, a long time faculty member who also served as the college's Athletic Director.

Van Winkle Hall

Van Winkle Hall is a traditional residence hall style building which houses the women of Lasell College. The building was named for alumna Adelaide Van Winkle, Class of 1936 and 1996, for her unwavering support of the college.

Holt Hall

Holt Hall was built in 2002 and named in honor of Lynn Keifer Holt, Class of 1961, in recognition of her generous support of the college.

... at Lasell College

Spence House

Spence House was named for Priscilla Spence Hall, Class of 1943, for her support of the college.

Pickard House

Pickard House is named for former Newton Mayor Pickard and houses 12 students each year.

Cushing House

Cushing House was named for the fourth principal of Lasell College who served from 1864- 1874, Reverend Charles W. Chusing, and houses women at Lasell.

Haskell House

Haskell House once served as the home for the Office of Alumni, and was purchased from the estate of Margaret Haskell, sister of Martha Haskell Clark, Class of 1905, for whom the building is named.

Ordway House

Ordway House was built in 1959 and is named for Earl H. Ordway. He was a teacher, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and crew coach. With all of his involvement, he worked at Lasell 1911- 1958. His daughter attended Lasell, Graduating in 1935, and he was a half brother of Dr. Guy Winslow, for who Winslow Academic Center is named.

Living on Campus...

Gardner House

Gardner House was named for Elizabeth Gardner Bouguereau, Class of 1856, and a world renowned painter. Her painting "The Judgement of Paris" now hangs in Yamawaki Arts and Cultural Center.

Chandler House

Chandler House was acquired by Lasell College in 1939 from the Chandler family, for which it was named.

Carpenter House

Carpenter House was named for Caroline Carpenter who was a teacher and preceptress at Lasell for 30 years.

Briggs House

Briggs House is named for George W. Briggs, brother-in-law of Edward Lasell, and strong supporter of Lasell College in its very early years.

Case House

Case House was purchased in 1942 from the Nason family, and was called Nason House for many years until it was renamed in honor of Julia Case, Class of 1932. Case House used to be the site of Lasell's Women's Center.

... at Lasell College

Mott House

Mott House is named for Ruth Rawlings Mott of the Class of 1921. This house was once named Berkley House and was home to the college's treasurer.

Hoag House

Hoag House is named after a beloved English teacher at Lasell, who taught here for 37 years, Elinor Hoag.

Saunders House

Saunders House was once named Converse House, but is now named for Helen Saunders, Class of 1917, who was also once a trustee for the college.

Keever House

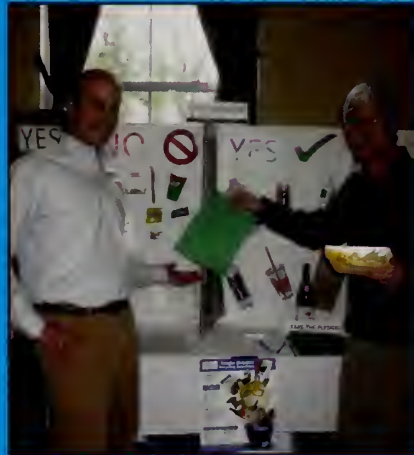

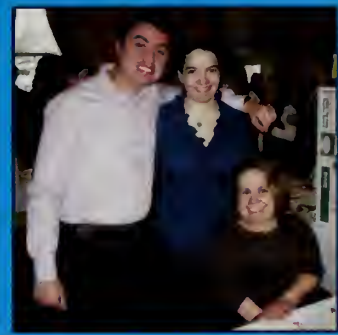

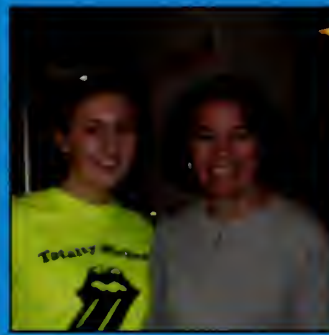

Keever House is a Community Service house, offering service opportunities to residents. The house is named for Dr. Henry Keever, once the college physician

Karandon House

Karandon House was named for Dr. Bragdon's wife Kate Ransom Bragdon. The name takes the first two letters of her first name, first three letters of her middle name, and last three letters of her last name to form Karandon. This house was once home to Dr. Guy Winslow, his wife, and four children from 1898-1942.

"... And if you are successful you will always have too much to do and too little time. If you aren't being criticized, you aren't doing much. And if everyone says you're out of your mind, you just might be on to something. So, work hard, work long, and work smart. Work like you don't need the money. And work from technique, because you never know how you will feel..."

"The key to happiness is having dreams. The key to success is making your dreams come true."

Kayla, look at you, here, right now, today. You had a dream when you were a little girl, something that all of us had at some point in our lives but, the difference is, you followed your dream, you did it! We know it wasn't easy, nor did it come without hard work and pushing yourself harder than you ever thought possible. You cried, we cried, we thought about you more times than you will ever know. I'm sure there were times when you wished it was all over and you wish you never started this, but look at you now. Your Mom and Dad could not possibly be any prouder than we are at this very moment. Stand proud, you are among success. We love and will always be there for you.

"Success is a journey, not a destination."
